Storytale Festival

PRESS RELEASE

October 23rd – October 24th 2021

Despite the challenges of the past year, Bristol's Storytale Festival is back for 2021! The festival is organised by a small group of local parents and celebrates stories for children, showcasing local authors, illustrators and storytellers and creating a range of interactive, accessible and fun events for various ages.

Chapter 3 of Storytale remains a free bitesize edition and online only with the festival taking place on Facebook on Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th October with five live events.

Will Hamilton-Davies will be getting kids drawing and dancing with the Shrew with the Flu; discover the world of plants with Lauren Tobia and Oscar's Tower of Flowers; Alex Morss will encourage creativity while sharing some of her favourite animals from Funny Bums, Freaky Beaks; and there will be an extra special storytelling session with Pridie Tiernan who will bring the natural world to life with The Nettle Princess.

Ever dreamed about writing a children's book? Middle grade authors Anna Hoghton, Sophie Kirtley and Emma Read will be offering advice about writing for children. There will be a chance to ask them questions as they share stories of their own road to publication. Plus Literature Works will be offering two free advice surgeries in conjunction with this event.
